BOOMER-ANGS

Kids these days

Back in my day, we had to walk to school everyday through 10 miles of snow and then procede to cross an active volcano. At school they would give us 40 hours of homework and make us run 20 miles over a bed of nails carrying 7 people on our shoulders, and those were the easy days. We had to kill our own food with our own handmade bow and arrows and cook it on our own fire built on our own hand carved rocks while fending off packs of wolves in a hailstorm in order to survive. When we ate, all we got was a bowl of cold porridge and, if we were lucky, a green bean. Also, climate change isn't real.
